A talk by Lord Peter Ricketts

Seeing ourselves as others see us: the world Britain faces after Brexit

Peter Ricketts, ex East Sheen resident, was a senior diplomat for 40 years with postings to Singapore, Washington, Paris and Brussels. In the later part of his career he was Permanent Secretary of the Foreign Office, Britain's first National Security Advisor and Ambassador to Paris. He retired in 2016 and now pursues a range of business and charitable activities. He is a regular contributor to the Today programme and other news outlets. He was appointed a cross bench member of the House of Lords in 2016.

Cost £48 to include a welcoming glass of wine, nibbles and a delicious 2 course dinner

Tables of 6 or 8 or come along on your own - we will have some friendly tables to join!
